

Summary:

Developer Insight Group, DIG, started this year. This event has becoming one of our most popular events since it started. Our goal is to be a source for information and connection to project leaders. This program explains and give our members an opportunity to hear straight from the developers and the cities on projects. Our members get a chance learn more about their community AND we want to make sure that businesses nearby these construction sites can ask questions.

What It Is:

An educational and informational event offering insight into development projects around the Carmel and Fishers Community. Attendees can give feedback on current development projects, as well as network, connect and meet others.

When It Is:

DIG programs typically occur once a month. They are usually hosted at the site of the project.

Who Attends:
