Safety Symposium

Safety Symposium is a half day event for Safety and HR professionals to hear from experts about trends in safety, OSHA updates, and best practices. For our inaugural event we had a full house with great feedback. One company sent their department head for every department! Based on feedback we plan to make this a bi-annual event and look forward to watching it grow. We like to say, “there’s no competition in safety,” meaning if we all share what we know everyone benefits from a safer community to work in.

Below is a testimonial, pictures and marketing from the event.

My biggest takeaway was the reminder that everyone is human at the end of the day and mistakes will be made regardless of the procedure used. But what is important is how we respond and look at it from inside the tunnel rather than making assumptions.
